PLANE SETS NEW WORLD ENDURANCE FLIGHT RECORD

Great Heat Wave On Prairies Drive Many To Lakes

Mercury in Number of Districts Rises to 100 Degrees; Damage to Wheat Fields Reported; No General Rain Forecast.

Winnipeg, July 23.—Scorching waves of heat that have caused damage to prairie wheat fields, broken most local records for seasonal high temperatures during the last few days and sent thousands of citizens scurrying to lake resorts, increased in intensity today.

While the blazing sun and mild south breezes kept the thermometers of Saskatchewan and Alberta hovering between 80 and 90 degrees yesterday, even hotter weather prevailed today. Temperatures would reach the century mark in districts on the prairie, it was predicted by weather experts.

Medicine Hat, Alberta, suffered from the most intense heat yesterday, with 98 degrees weather prevailing. Rain yesterday was reported in one small community, but forecasts point to a continuance of the drought that has scorched many acres of wheat this summer.

Shanghai, July 23.—Belief is great here today that the crisis in Manchuria will be settled amicably and by negotiation. The Tachung News Agency, considered semi-official, said in a Nanking dispatch, "Belief among officials here that the Sino-Russian controversy will be settled in a friendly manner is apparent."

During a meeting of the Council of State this morning, President Chiang Kai-shek was said to have remarked: "Inasmuch as the National Government entertains no illwill toward Russia and plans no war, it is reasonably certain the Soviet will not take upon itself responsibility for starting another international conflagration."

Tientsin, China, July 23.—The Soviet consuls at Tientsin and Peking were forced this morning to cancel their departure for Moscow with their consular staffs when the Chinese government refused them visas for their passports.

The Soviet consuls immediately wired Moscow and meanwhile continued preparation for their trip. It was understood the commissioners' refusal of visas was prompted by orders from Nanking on the ground that war had not been declared.

Peking, July 23.—Soviet troops patrolling the Amur River, the northern boundary of Manchuria, captured the Chinese river steamer Han and took prisoner the wife and baby daughter of Ray Talbot, United States citizen.

The Russians sent word to Talbot, who is deputy commissioner of the Soviet maritime customs at Tabei-Ho across the Amur from Chagovshevsk that both were "comfortable and being treated kindly."

George C. Hanson, United States consul at Harbin, Manchuria, will bring an official report of the capture. He said friends of Talbot at Harbin said Mrs. Talbot was of Russian birth. (Concluded on Page 5)

Weather Barrier Holds Fliers At Greenland Port

Capt. Albin Ahrenberg, chief pilot (centre), Lieut. Axel Floden, pilot (right), and Hans Ljungland, mechanic, so far have been beaten by the weather in their attempt to fly from Stockholm, Sweden, to New York. Yesterday, for the fourth time, they took off in their plane from Ivigtut, Greenland, for Labrador, but in two and a half hours they were back at Ivigtut, the dense fog having proved too great a menace. They are planning to complete as soon as the weather will permit the flight they started in stages weeks ago.

OCTOGENARIAN BOATMAN DIES AFTER STROKE

Lambert-St. Louis Field, Mo., July 23.—A new world record for sustained flight was established by Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine in their monoplane, the St. Louis Robin, here at 3:32 p.m. Central Standard Time to-day.

The St. Louis Robin at that hour had been up 247 hours 43 minutes and 32 seconds, one hour longer than Roland Reinhart and Loren Mendell flew their biplane The Angelino at Culver City, California, July 2-12.

Jackson and O'Brine announced they would continue in the air to set a new mark as high as the mechanical condition of their plane would permit.

The St. Louis Robin, a monoplane built by the Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Company, sponsors of the flight is powered with a New Challenge motor.

The original purpose of the flight, which was started at 7:17 a.m. July 13, was to give the motor an endurance test.

A large crowd at the field saw the plane pass the Mendell-Reinhardt mark.

At 7:17 to-day the plane made its twenty-second refueling contact, taking on a light load.

Lumber Duty Plan May Be Ended In U.S.

Washington, July 23.—Canadian Press Staff Correspondent: Publicity the Senate finance committee will retain the House duty on shingles and will return lumber to the free list was seen here to-day as the Republican members of the committee began the work of consideration of changes in the House bill. The bill will practically be rewritten.

Although it has been generally predicted the finance committee would knock out the House increases on building materials, it was disclosed today some Republicans feel there is more argument for free lumber than free shingles. President Hoover is opposed to the increases on building materials generally, according to those who have talked the matter over with him.

CITY CALLS NEW RACING TENDERS

Breach With Colwood Park Racing Association Subject of Warm Debate; Bids for 1929 Willows Meet to Be Received Up to Friday at 3 p.m.

No action to heal the breach with the Colwood Park Racing Association, which held the Willows race concession since 1927, was taken by the City Council yesterday afternoon when it voted on a division to call publicly for tenders for the 1929 race meet from all sources, with or without the use of automatic betting machines.

Bids for the racing concession at the fair grounds are to be received up to 3 p.m. on Friday of this week. The concession will be finally let at a meeting of the council to be held on Monday next.

Mayor Ansonb announced he had already two bids in his pocket, but stated he would not disclose the nature or terms of the offers received. The Colwood Park Racing Association will be free to bid on the new invitation, it was expressly stated.

The council action followed a resolution put forward by Mayor Herbert Ansonb at the close of a three-hour meeting, in which an hour had been devoted to a private discussion of the city's legal status. If the city were to get the best terms for its concession it would have to act without delay, stressed the mayor, and suggested the call for fresh tenders.

Alderman E. S. Woodward proposed that the city take no action until the council had had time to digest legal advice obtained from H. T. Elliott, on the status of its original deal with the Colwood Park Racing Association, but secured no support for that course.

On the division on the mayor's motion to call for new tenders without loss of time Mayor Herbert Ansonb and Aldermen John Harvey, J. L. Mara and James Adam supported the motion, with Aldermen H. C. Litchfield, E. S. Woodward and William Marchant against it. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, in the chair at the time, gave his vote in favor of the motion, averting a deadlock.

In its private session as a committee of the whole, the council had before it the confidential advice of its solicitors, and made a canvass at length of the subject.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR PRAIRIE AIR MAILS

Ottawa, July 23.—The new air mail service on the prairies, operating between Winnipeg and Regina, between Regina and Edmonton, and between Regina and Banff, will be inaugurated early in October if the ground work can be completed in time, it was announced by the Post Office Department to-day.

A tentative schedule drawn up will send a plane west from Winnipeg at 9 o'clock, central standard time, every night, to arrive at Banff at 6:45 a.m., early enough to have the mail transferred to the train which left Winnipeg the previous morning.

Normally, postal matter mailed at Winnipeg during the twelve hours previous to the takeoff of the plane would not reach Banff until the day after the machine's arrival.

TO FLY AT NIGHT
The new service, by making use of a night flying route, will be able to bring about a saving of forty-eight hours on matter mailed at Winnipeg and destined for the Pacific slope and twenty-four hours on transcontinental mail from points farther east than Winnipeg, and rush ahead by air to overtake the train which left the day before.

Eastbound planes will leave Banff at 11 p.m. mountain time, and will arrive in Winnipeg at 9:15 central standard time the following morning, catching the train which left Banff twenty-four hours before.

The schedule on the branch route between Regina and Edmonton has not yet been drawn up in definite form.

MAN LIGHTLY CLAD WINS TEST IN CAROLINA

Elizabeth City, N.C., July 23.—W. O. Saunders, editor of the Elizabeth City Independent and a national magazine writer, was arrested yesterday afternoon for wearing his pyjamas on the streets, was later dismissed and then praised in a public proclamation issued by Mayor Jerome B. Mr. Saunders went out similarly clothed Sunday, July 14, but his pyjamas attracted little attention. Yesterday, however, his trip led him by Chief of Police Holmes, who took him before the mayor. After viewing the situation, including the light blue rayon "slumber suit," the mayor said he saw nothing wrong with it.

Mayor Flora looked into the law and the constitution and forthwith issued a proclamation, solemnly proclaiming it "the inherent right of every citizen or inhabitant of this city or every visitor to dress as he pleases, and go and come as he pleases as long as there is no indecent exposure of his person."

UGANDA NATIVES WOUND DOCTOR

Nairobi, Kenya, Africa, July 23.—Native objection to inoculation against disease resulted in a treacherous spear and sword attack on Sanitary Inspector Kendall of Uganda July 20, in which Kendall lost his left arm and very nearly his life.

As Kendall approached a village belonging to a native fanatical religious sect called the Amalekites, he was met by a deputation which said the chief had died of plague.

As Kendall sat resting after his journey, a spear suddenly whizzed through the air and struck him in the side. A general attack followed in which Kendall's left arm was nearly severed from his body. He was rescued by his native assistant, who killed one of the tribesmen and carried his superior safely to their automobile, in which they escaped.

Kendall's arm was subsequently amputated. A police expedition later encountered the natives, killing seven of them.

GOING AFTER AUSTRALIAN BUSINESS

NOW THAT THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT has implemented its promise to assist the development of British Columbia's lumber business with the Antipodes by subsidizing a monthly steamer service, it is important that everything should be done to justify the expenditure on the undertaking. Hence it is gratifying to note that the Provincial Government will support the efforts of the lumber interests in every possible way.

In deciding to send a delegation to Australia, the lumbermen of the Province obviously have taken the right course. A great deal more can be done by personal contact than by correspondence. But it will have to be borne in mind by the members of that delegation that if it is their object to create a sentiment in Australia in favor of preferential treatment for our lumber under the provisions of the Canadian-Australian trade treaty, as well as to stimulate business on the present basis, they will have to be prepared to listen to Australia's case in favor of more purchases of her products by Canada, most of which, of course, are the products of the farm.

Our trading account with Australia at present is much more one-sided than it was twelve months ago. For the year ending May 31 we exported goods to the value of $20,160,898 and bought only $3,666,480 worth, or an exchange ratio of six dollars to one; and if the last two years be taken into account, we find that out of a turnover of approximately $43,000,000 there is a balance in our favor of $25,425,015. Hence, it will be understood that if Canada is to obtain any more concessions from Australia, she must be ready with her quid pro quo.

FAITH IN A MODERN AGE

WE NEVER REALIZE THE EXTENT to which we are required to take our fellow men on trust until one or another of them turns out to be a rogue. This is supposed to be a cynical and suspicious age—an age of world-wise sophisticates. In reality, however, it is above all ages an age in which men are taking it for granted that their associates are men of honor and dependability.

In New York City not long ago a large bank failed, causing a loss to its depositors—mostly poor Italian workmen—of some $7,000,000. State officials immediately investigated, and uncovered an unbelievable state of corruption and defalcation on the part of trusted officers. The bank, evidently, had been systematically looted, and the weight of its falling wreckage landed right on the shoulders of those least able to sustain it.

Now, the collapse of a bank is not a common event; and, when you stop to think about it, the mere fact that it shocks us so much is a striking proof of the fact that good faith is a predominating element in modern life.

Think it over for a minute. Whatever money you have been able to save you put in a bank. You may not know a soul connected with your bank. You may know nothing about its officers. Yet you never hesitate to put all your savings into their hands. You do not even dream of distrusting them. Your confidence in their honesty makes you feel that the bank is the safest possible place for your money.

That, of course, is only one instance. You could multiply it by scores. When you drive your auto at a fifty-mile clip, you know perfectly well that if some of its parts should suddenly develop flaws and give way—a steering knuckle, for instance—you would be badly injured, perhaps killed outright. Yet that thought never disturbs you. You have confidence that the men who made the car put honest work into it and made it safe for you.

When you go to a store to buy clothing, often the bill is charged. The store officials do not know you. You are only one of thousands of customers—all of whom are having their purchases charged. But the store is quite willing to "take your word" for it that you will pay up later. It has found that all but an insignificant minority of people are to be trusted.

When you have a prescription filled at the corner drug store you are putting your life in your druggist's hands. On his shelves are poisons enough to kill a regiment. If he is careless or poorly trained he could easily make a mistake that would put you out of existence. And there is no earthly way for you to check upon him. Yet you do not hesitate. You have perfect confidence that he knows his job.

That is the way it goes, through every hour of the day. Never before was the ordinary man so much under the necessity of taking it for granted that his fellows are reliable, honest and capable. A scandal like that of the New York bank only emphasizes how seldom it is that this daily confidence of ours is misplaced.

SHOULD BE SUPPRESSED

IN THE DISTRICT OF BENITO, IN Manitoba, members of that branch of the Doukhobor sect who call themselves the Sons of Freedom have just burned down twelve schoolhouses. Similar incidents took place near Nelson, in this Province, recently.

Surely it is about time the authorities suppressed these fanatics. If they are not doing property damage, they are making themselves objectionable in other ways. This sort of behavior must be embarrassing to the law-abiding members of the Doukhobor communities.

There is no room in this country for people who are not prepared to obey our laws. If one of our own citizens set fire to a school building, he would go to jail. If these Sons of Freedom do not behave themselves, therefore, they should be rigorously suppressed or deported.

DRESS REFORM

FOR WEARING HIS PYJAMAS ON THE streets the editor of The Elizabeth City Independent was arrested yesterday afternoon, and taken before the mayor of the city. But to reward awaited the police officer's zeal: His Worship dismissed the arrested journalist and issued a proclamation, under his own seal, expressing the wish that he lead the nerve to do such similar and comfortable raiment.

There will be a division of opinion as to whether pyjamas should be favored for out-door wear by those enthusiasts in the United States and Great Britain who have launched a crusade in the interests of dress reform for men. Pioneers in the movement in the Old Country seem to favor "shorts" and a shirt of the open-neck type, and, of course, no collar. There are variations of jacket, loosely fitting of the orthodox pattern, the others of the smock style. Judging by the picture recently published, the British "reform fashions" seem the acme of comfort.

Men's fashions, both street clothes and dress clothes, are as stupid, from the point of view of health and comfort, as they could well be. All day long the neck is gripped by a tight collar. There is no need to discuss the rest; the collar is bad enough. But we make the greatest contribution to our discomfort when we don evening clothes. At a dinner and dance in the middle of August, for instance, the man must exhaust his stock of endurance. How different from the woman, who dresses comfortably and sensibly!

In the days of our forefathers men dressed with greater regard for their own comfort than they do now. At least they did not wear so many clothes, no doubt because there was not so much clothing to be had. A lot of the sartorial paraphernalia with which they overload themselves are of recent invention. However, relief is in sight, but if they really want it they will get behind the dress reformers.

SETTING BUILDING RECORDS

WHAT A FULL MEASURE OF PROSPERITY Canada is enjoying is reflected in the building statistics which have just been made public at Ottawa. These show that for the first half of this year a higher level was reached than at any period on record at the office of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The aggregate value of permits issued by sixty-one cities was no less than $124,188,514, or 21.7 per cent. higher than the same six months in 1928, which was the previous high mark. The increase in the value of permits issued in June, by the way, was 15.1 per cent. over that of May, and an increase over June of a year ago of 21.5 per cent.

This report of building activity should be noted by those who seem to find it very difficult to be enthusiastic about the progress of their own country. The statistics to which we have referred are the unmistakable evidences of prosperity. The most encouraging feature of the report, moreover, is that from every section of Canada comes the same news. Perhaps at no time in her history—at least not since the war—has the country enjoyed such universal good times.

THE BEST SETTLER

HON. ROBERT FORKE HAS REACHED the conclusion that the settler who comes to Canada without Government assistance, thus paying his own way and getting his own job, makes the best citizen.

The Times has expressed this view often. The immigrant who comes under these conditions usually does so not because he is unemployed in his own country, but because he thinks there is more opportunity for him in Canada. He burns his bridges with a full appreciation of what he is doing. He makes up his mind that he is going to succeed, and in most cases he does. The last thing he wants to do, moreover, is to confess failure. The fear of that often spurs him on.

It has been proved, incidentally, that all the special rates and inducements which have been held out to the peoples of the Old World have not produced nearly as large an influx of new settlers as was expected. Have things been made too easy? Has the country been made unattractive in their uninformed minds by too many offers?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

WITH PARACHUTE AID, PERHAPS
The Hamilton Spectator

Court was held by a Los Angeles judge in an aeroplane, flying high above the city; the other day, Counsel for the defence muffed a great chance if he didn't suggest "that the case be dropped."

EQUALS
The Toronto Globe

It is just one thrill after another for social circles in Washington. Following closely upon settlement of the precedence issue, things again are all upset by presence at a White House function of the wife of a negro Congressman—presumably also colored. The sensation has spread beyond Washington, and a North Carolina senator terms the incident "a great blow to the social stability of the South." But isn't there something in the constitution of the United States about all men being equal?

DISGRACEFUL CONDITION
The Hamilton Spectator

The undefended boundary between Canada and the United States is an object of legitimate pride to both countries. It demonstrates what goodwill and common sense can achieve in ordering the relationships between two friendly neighbors. But just now the inspiring picture is being marred through the nefarious activities of the run-runners. Incidents have occurred recently which have converted the peaceful boundary line into a battleground, with fire and counter-fire, pursuits and escapes, slaughters and kidnappings and all the other disgraceful accompaniments of the liquor traffic over the border. It is a deplorable situation and a difficult problem, but the people of the United States can be assured that Canadians are just as much ashamed and sick of this humiliating business as they are.

A THOUGHT

That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.—II Thessalonians 1:10.

A man cannot practice sin and be a good citizen. Burke says very truly: "Whatever disunites man from God disunites him from man."—Chaplin.

Loose Ends

The Courts of B.C. and Austria clash on a vital issue—reflecting on young Canadian womanhood—Turkey sticks to its own alphabet despite the law—Criminals require technical education and show the results thereof.

By H. B. W.

THE COURTS of British Columbia and of Austria recently handed down decisions which seem to cast serious aspersions on the young womanhood of this country. In effect, the courts of Austria decided that it is not libelous for a gentleman to dictate to his stenographer statements about another gentleman which, if uttered in public, would be cause for court action, or a blackened eye. The stenographer, according to this interesting decision, is merely a part of her mistress, and of course, it is not libelous to say anything to a machine.

HARDLY HAD a week passed before the courts of British Columbia found themselves confronted with the same grave issue, and they held just the opposite. They held that it is libelous to dictate defamatory statements to your stenographer, because she is not part of her machine but a separate entity, quite capable of appreciating the damaging character of this information.

THERE ARE two ways of looking at these contrary rulings from two high judicial authorities. The Australian course, in the first place, pays a high compliment to the comely stenographers of Central Europe by assuming that they do not repeat to anyone a word uttered to them by their employers; but on the other hand, to assume that they are merely an attachment of a typewriter, like the shift key or the double spacer, is not flatteringly to them, but to be celebrated for its charm and chic.

THE COURTS of British Columbia, however, allow stenographers a separate existence apart from their typewriters, which is a very sound decision as applied to any stenographer after 9 p.m. But in deciding that it is libelous to say libelous things to your stenographer the courts imply a gross want of confidence in the discretion of our Canadian girls, as compared with the discretion of the Austrians. Either the Austrian courts are over-confident or ours are over-apologetic. The courts can rule as they wish, but this will not shake the confidence of our trustful business men. They will continue to tell their stenographers libelous things about other business men. They will continue to let them know more about their business than they know themselves.

THE NEW Turkey, which Mustafa Kemal has founded since the war, is finding that you cannot give a people in half a decade the culture which other nations have taken ten or twelve centuries to acquire, and likewise that there are definite limits to the power of legislation, however enlightened it may be. The new Turkey is finding, in fact, that it can lead its people to the stream of European knowledge but it cannot make them drink. Mr. Kemal, you will recall, has forbidden the publication of any book, magazine or newspaper in which English characters like those used in English are many European languages. The old Turkish alphabet was abolished with the veil reformer by Turkish women as likely to impede the westernization of this amazing young state.

THE RESULT of this sudden change has been alarming, according to Yakoub Kadri Bey, a friend of the dictator, and a member of the national parliament. In a recent article he declares that instead of making people read in Latin characters the new regulations are preventing them from reading at all, and he fears "the nation's intellect will descend into the depths of an abyss deeper than it touched in even the darkest days of its history."

THE TEN magazines published in Constantinople before the new alphabet was ordered have lost nine-tenths of their circulation, and most of them have discontinued publication. The survivors have circulations of a thousand copies or so. The daily newspapers have lost half their readers. Salaries and staffs have been drastically reduced. Books are finding few purchasers.

ALPHABETS thus do not seem to be easily transcribed by law but, like other living things, must take natural root and grow slowly. It took our present alphabet a long time to develop from the cuneiform characters of the Euphrates, through many transitions from the Phoenicians, to the Greeks to the Romans and hence northward across Europe. It will not be easy to drag it back across the continent almost to its ancient home overnight. Meanwhile, no doubt, there will be bottleging and home-brewing of the old Turkish tongue with literary speakables in the new Turkey.

THE DISCOVERY by New York police that two young gangsters whom they arrested held certificates in burglary and efficient bloodshed from a correspondence college in crime, situated in Charleroi, Pennsylvania, may have caused surprise in other countries, but not in Chicago, for instance. Organized instruction in crime has been provided in some quarters in the big centres for many years. Twenty years ago, indeed, this higher education flourished widely and one of the leading colleges of criminology issued a bulky textbook explaining in detail all the best methods of breaking and entering, banditry and other forms of profitable violence. The unfeeling police seized most of these enterprising publications, but a few copies remained in circulation and are said to have sold at prices usually achieved by a first folio Shakespeare. Thus a large class of society is being deprived of the benefits of a technical education to equip it for the battles of life on the highway of crime.

APPARENTLY the efficiency of the vocational training overlooked by the police is being maintained against heavy odds. This was indicated when the United States Government recently issued its new paper money, small and delicate in appearance and resplendent with the faces of a carefully-selected group of historical figures. Within a day or two of the release of the first bills from the United States mint it was reported from Portland, Oregon, that counterfeiters of the new money already had been discovered. Well-trained criminals had worked fast. Before the new bills have become familiar to the average American there will be enticing opportunities along this line for criminals who have the advantage of a crime college education.

EXPORTING PLANES

New York, July 23.—United Aircraft Exports incorporated is being formed by the United Aircraft and Transport Corporation to handle the latter's export business. Francis H. Love will be president of the new company. Frederick B. Rentschler, president of United Aircraft and Transportation, will be chairman, and William E. Boeing, chairman of the parent concern, has a place on the directorate. Mr. Rentschler reports that United foreign orders in the last year exceeded $2,000,000.

Tomb at Fredericton For Ashes of Carman

New Canada, Conn., July 23.—The ashes of Bliss Carman will be taken from the Lakeview Cemetery chapel here to Fredericton, N.B., for interment. It is definitely announced by Mrs. Mary Perry King, executrix of the Canadian poet's estate. Mrs. King had for several weeks been wavering between accepting the invitation of the Government of New Brunswick, supported by the wish of the Prime Minister of Canada, and carrying out the desire of the poet for burial at Lakeview.

ENLARGE PRINCE ALBERT PARK

The area of the new Prince Albert national park, in northern Saskatchewan, has been increased from 1,377 to 1,898 square miles. This park was officially opened on August 10, 1928, by the late Hon. Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada.

Brisley, July 23.—Private Perry wins the King's prize with a total of 321. His score at the 900 yards was 45. The Canadians are greatly delighted at the victory. Perry was heartily congratulated by the Prince of Wales and Lord Roberts, who are present to inspect the colonials to-day. The above notable achievement of Perry gives British Columbia the proud distinction of winning for Canada, the second time in her history, the most highly coveted rifle trophy in the Empire.

Portland, Ore., July 23.—In a race that was never in doubt, the Victoria oarsmen swept everything before them yesterday and racing experts here have conceded that Victoria will be the winners in this afternoon's events. In the first race for the junior doubles Victoria led from the start, pulling that easy rhythmic stroke that Dan O'Sullivan teaches his crews at the quarter mile.

London, July 23.—Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, sailed for home to-day on the steamer Buenos Ayres from Liverpool, after having settled up Newfoundland's share in the Anglo-French treaty. When the steamer Empress of India sails for the Orient on Monday next she will be chock-a-block with freight. This fact is interesting, inasmuch as it indicates that the C.P.R. Company is determined to carry on its Asiatic business, despite reports that the Vladivostok squadron has left its base on a piratical expedition, and is liable to swoop down on any ships bound for Japan.

Captain Troup has been notified by his legal representative in Seattle that the C.P.R. Company has won its case in the test made in the United States district court of that city of the legality of the fine recently imposed on the Princess Beatrice for carrying passengers to the Sound who came south from Skagway on another of the company's ships.

Ruth R. McIntyre, cashier of The Times Printing and Publishing Company, and Mrs. McIntyre left this morning on the steamer Whatcom on route to Winnipeg.

Captain Gaudin, agent of the marine and fisheries, returned yesterday evening from a trip down the West Coast.

A lift at the Otter Point and Sooke traps on Thursday disclosed that 9,500 fish were taken, representing three or four days' fishing.

LUMBERMEN GO TO AUSTRALIA FOR BUSINESS

Seek Help From Provincial Government Towards Expenses of Trade Mission

Assistance to British Columbia lumbermen in their efforts to build up trade with Australia and New Zealand was promised by the Cabinet yesterday to a delegation of lumbermen.

After seeing the delegation Premier Toole remarked: "The lumber interests are uniting to send two or three representatives of their industry to Australia to endeavor to increase the exports there. The Government appreciates what is being done by the lumbermen in this respect and will not only lend its full moral support to the movement but has promised to come to the assistance of the delegation in the matter of contributing to the financing of the mission."

The delegation which waited on the Government comprised Alrd Flavell of the Cedar Manufacturers' Association, of the False Creek Lumber Mills; T. H. Wilkinson, secretary of the British Columbia Lumbermen's Association; James G. Robson of the Timberland Lumber Company, and J. W. McLeod of the British Columbia Manufacturing Company.

Premier Toole told the delegation that from a selfish standpoint, even were there no higher motive actuating the administration in the extension of its business, the Government was more than justified in taking every means to assist in the enlarging of the markets for the lumber which British Columbia was capable of producing.

With the recent granting of a subsidy for lumber carrying by the Dominion Government to assist in the trade the aid of the Province will come as a co-operative step to further the chances of extending the trade of the British Columbia manufacturers. Under the Dominion subsidy it is pointed out that $7,500 a sailing will be paid, but in any event the steamer must leave with a full cargo in order to earn the subsidy. Package freight may be used to supplement the cargo of lumber.

AT DISADVANTAGE
The main competitors of the British Columbia lumbermen in this trade are the northwestern states of the Union. In the case of Washington and Oregon lumber shippers, the subsidy amounts to from $15,000 to $18,000, which still leaves the British Columbia lumber shipper at a disadvantage.

R. A. Haynes, the Australian Trade Commissioner, who is at present in Canada, will be met when he returns from the East and will be consulted in the matter of the chances of opening up of trade in lumber to an increased extent. Among other lines it is hoped that something may be done in the way of utilizing British Columbia lumber for boxes used in shipping case goods.

BALDWIN SHARES IN BY-ELECTION TEST IN BRITAIN

London, July 23 (Canadian Press Cable).—Sincerity of purpose and political consistency are named by Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader and late Premier of Great Britain, as the issues in the Preston by-election in a letter to Dr. A. B. Howitt, Conservative candidate. The by-election is a result of the resignation of Sir William Jowitt, following his entry into the Labor Government as Attorney-general. He was elected as a Liberal.

Polling is set for July 31. In this contest you are fighting not merely in the interests of our party," Mr. Baldwin writes. "You are also fighting to secure that the consistency and sincerity of purpose without which democratic government must end in failure, shall receive proper recognition in the conduct of our political affairs."

"You have against you a candidate who a few weeks ago was fighting under a different banner and who is to-day upholding the cause he was then opposing and I question whether even now he could subscribe in full to the Socialist policies expounded in their official programme, 'Labor and the Nation.'"

"It is the duty of our party before the next appeal to the country to prepare a new policy in the light of future developments and with regard to the extent to which our policies have been carried into effect by the Labor-Socialist Government.

"In the meantime we stand by our general election policy. 'Above all we shall consistently refuse to dangle before the electorate promises of policies which we know can not be put into operation without detriment to the national interest.'"

TWICKENHAM NOMINATION

London, July 23 (Canadian Press Cable).—There has been a good deal of agitation in Conservative circles over the action of the Twickenham Conservative Association in declining to choose Sir Thomas Inskip as the party candidate in the by-election which is to be held following the elevation of Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary in the Baldwin Government, to the peerage. The former Home Secretary favored the selection of Sir Thomas. The local association instead adopted Sir John Ferguson as its candidate. He is an outspoken advocate of "free trade within the Empire."

The question of intra-Empire trade is becoming a live one in Great Britain and it is noteworthy that Right Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health in the late Conservative administration, recently advocated free trade among the nations of the Empire.

BARRINGTON NOVEL FINE FILM DRAMA

Screen Adaptation of Victoria Author's Story Draws
Crowds to Capitol

Introducing the human side of Nelson's life into the love story of an English country girl who has been elevated to the position of ambassador to Naples, Frank Lloyd's presentation of E. Barrington's novel, "The Divine Lady," proved a signal success at its first showing at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. As far as is known, this is the first story written by Victoria's internationally-known author, Mrs. Adams Beck, who writes under the nom de plume of E. Barrington, to be presented on the screen here.

In it, Mrs. Adams Beck has combined a gripping plot with the colorful setting of one of England's great naval episodes and has produced a human interest story of great effectiveness. With consummate skill and artistry the author has woven the tale of Nelson's victories of the Nile and Trafalgar into the romance.

The story opens in the period when the rumblings of discontent in France preaged the great revolution which shook Europe to its foundations. Square-rigged ships, quaint panned skirts, coaches and horses and things peculiar to the period are carefully followed in the drama, which preserves an atmosphere of the late eighteenth century faithfully.

But still the story of love remains true to life. The meteoric rise of Emma, the daughter of an English cook, to the position of ambassador to Naples is told dramatically. Her meeting with Captain Nelson, before he became a famous admiral, her love for him and the manifestation of her devotion is all shown in a human light.

The introduction of the historical background of the influence of the French Revolution upon Europe, as well as Nelson's victories and his unyielding message, England expects that every man will die of his duty, is done with such artistry that no phase of the story appears stilted.

Pictorial scenes in the courts of Naples and England and fleet naval engagements between the stately wooden ships of France and England lend a touch of color to the story that makes it most fitting for dramatization on the screen.

The cast, in which Corinne Griffith stars, is exceptionally well chosen and adds materially to the success achieved by Mrs. Adams Beck in her novel.

The picture is running all week at the Capitol.

SOLARIUM WORK SHOWS INCREASE

Large Number of Patients
Treated; Large Donations
Acknowledged

Wider scope in the work of the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay was reported at the monthly meeting of the board of directors yesterday.

The monthly report showed the total number of patients during June to be sixty-three, with a daily average of fifty-three, which was ten higher than for the same period last year.

The total days of treatment given to all the patients was 1,233.

Revenue for the month was $3,725.31, and the expenditure $2,216.70, as compared with $2,310.84 last year. The cost per day was $204, as compared with $183 last year, and the depreciation making up the chief difference.

The directors decided to install an additional $900 worth of apparatus following the acceptance of three donations totaling over $2,000. One of these was a bequest of $1,000 from the estate of the late John Virtue, another of $1,250 from Mrs. Matthews, Westcliffe, as a memorial to the late Colonel Matthews, and a third of $500 from the officers of St. Princess Nora.

A converter was purchased for use in treatment of the Solarium, making possible the use of a traveling X-ray outfit and also diathermy, galvanism and other mechanical appliances.

The remainder of the sum will be utilized for the provision of a play ground for the children at the west side of the Solarium.

BROMLEY PUTS PLANE THROUGH FINAL TESTS

If To-day's Jumps Satisfactory He Will Only Await Favorable Pacific Weather

Tacoma, July 23—A new wrinkle in aviation hop-ops is scheduled to be tested at the Tacoma airport late today. Lieut. Harold Bromley, who will start soon on an attempted nonstop flight from Tacoma to Tokyo, Japan, will test the feasibility of having a second plane fly overhead to guide him down the runway on the takeoff. His big Lockheed monoplane, the City of Tacoma, is so constructed that he must fly practically "blind" until his plane is well up in the air. With his aerial guide to lead the way, Bromley believes he can hurdle at full speed down the 5,400-foot runway with much greater safety.

TEST FLIGHT
If minor adjustments to the motor are completed to-day and the test flight develops no need for further work on the plane, Lieut. Bromley will wait only a favorable weather report to take off on his great adventure.

WEIGHT LIMIT FOR GORGE BRIDGE IS SET AT TWO TONS

A fine not to exceed $200 will be imposed upon persons driving loads weighing more than two tons over the Gorge Bridge as soon as a by-law, which is now being drafted by the municipalities of Esquimalt and Saanich, goes into force.

Announcement of this fact was made at the Esquimalt council meeting last night.

Two tons was accepted by both Saanich and Esquimalt councils as being the gross weight limit for traffic going over the span.

TENSION IN ORIENT IS RELAXING

VESSELS SEIZED
The Russians also captured the Chinese merchantman Heicheng, which they are holding near Blagoveshchensk.

Japanese news agency reports, unconfirmed elsewhere, said a Chinese river gunboat had been captured by the Russians on the Amur.

Observers here to-day estimated seven divisions of Chinese infantry and one of artillery had been assembled in the Manchurian region, northwestern terminus of the Chinese Eastern Railway, with 30,000 soldiers were supposed to be gathering at Paganchnaya, at the eastern end of the railroad.

Chinese and Japanese news agencies here were filled to-day with continued alarming reports of troop movements along the Manchurian border, and stories of refugees arriving at Harbin.

NO VIOLENT BREAK
Most of the stories were unconfirmed and neutral observers were of the opinion there had been no overt act by either Russia or China unless it was that purported to have taken place in the seizure of the Chinese gunboat.

TREATY AND LEAGUE
London, July 23 (By George Hamblin, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—While suggestions have been made that Great Britain should take steps to summon a meeting of the League Council to deal with Sino-Russian crisis, Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, takes the ground that it is not an easy matter to put the machinery of the League into action when one party to a dispute is a member of the League and the other is not a member.

France and the United States is trying to avert war between Russia and China by evoking the Kellogg Anti-war Treaty, which both the disputants signed.

INTRIGUE AND WAR
"War in the ordinary sense of the term," The York Post said to-day, "is not the chosen instrument of the Soviet for pursuance of its nationalist and imperialist aims. Soviet Russia, as everybody knows, has developed altogether different weapons, namely, communist intrigue within the country which she desires to dominate."

POSITION OF JAPAN
Tokyo, July 23—A spokesman for the Foreign Office to-day stated Japan had received no notification of Secretary Stimson's steps for settlement of the Sino-Russian crisis and that therefore Japan could not associate herself with France and the United States as Great Britain was said to have done.

He declared the main facts regarding the steps taken were known in Tokyo, but there had been no official notification from the Japanese Ambassador at Washington or through the United States Embassy here.

It was made known a feeling prevailed Japan had been diplomatically slighted in a sphere in which her interests were greater than those of any of the other powers.

The mystification of official quarters was increased by Moscow press dispatches which alleged the Soviet had rejected the French offer of mediation and denying receipt of any communication from the United States.

The Japanese Ambassador's report of his conversation with Secretary Stimson has not yet been received.

The Chinese Minister conferred to-day with Baron Shidehara, Foreign Minister, and later a representative of the United States Embassy called at the Foreign Office.

TROOP MOVEMENTS BARRED
London, July 23—A Reuter dispatch from Tokyo to-day said it had been learned authoritatively that the commander of the Japanese garrison in Manchuria had instructed the South Manchurian Railway to refuse to transport Chinese troops and munitions through southern Manchuria to Changchun, where it joins with the Chinese Eastern Railway.

The railroad also was told to refuse to permit Chinese troops carrying arms to pass through the railway zone except at the discretion of the local Japanese commanders.

RUSSIA BLAMES CHINA
Moscow, July 23—France's offer to mediate in the Manchurian crisis was declined yesterday by the Russian Soviet Government, which assigned China's refusal to re-establish the status quo in Manchuria as a reason.

A communique said: "The French Government addressed to the Soviet Government an offer to undertake action for an amicable settlement of the Soviet-Chinese conflict. The offer was made by Foreign Minister Briand to the Russian Ambassador, M. Bogalesky, at Paris, and by French Ambassador Herbet to Moscow to Vice-Commissar Kharakun.

M. Kharakun, on behalf of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, replied as follows to the French Ambassador: "It is impossible to overestimate the importance of the offer of the French Minister of Affairs, but the Soviet Government is compelled to state this is of no purpose owing to the refusal of the Chinese authorities to restore the legal position violated by them, which constitutes a necessary condition for settlement in accordance with the Soviet Government's note of July 1."

"It regards the question of possible further complications, the Soviet Government must declare that no one is so concerned about maintenance of peace and that there is no reason for doubting the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in Japan and remains a bulwark of peace."

DEATHS INVESTIGATED
Toronto, July 23—Within a few days, three boys have died in local hospitals under anaesthetics administered for operations. An autopsy and inquest has been ordered by the coroner on the body of John Buck, five, the last to die.

FEDERAL AND PROVINCIAL DELEGATES SOON TO REPORT

Royal Commission of Radio will be in the hands of the Government early next month. The impression prevails that it will recommend government control and perhaps government operation of broadcasting in this country along the line followed in Great Britain. There is no doubt the commission during its travels through Canada was met by a fairly unanimous demand for distinctly Canadian and British programmes.

All the provinces co-operated with the Radio Commission and no great difficulty is expected as to apportioning of the spheres of authority when all the parties get together.

The radio report probably will be sent to the province for consideration, sent to the provinces for consideration before the Government takes action.

DIVORCE DISCUSSION
The general understanding when Parliament was prorogued was that some means would be thought up to prevent the business of the House of Commons being tied up by eastern Canadian divorce cases.

The bill to provide divorce courts for Ontario was defeated in the Commons largely on the ground that the province had not asked for it. The views of the Ontario Government may be canvassed before Parliament meets again.

The developments in connection with the return of the natural resources in Saskatchewan will be largely dependent on the events which transpire when the Government of that province meets the Legislative Assembly following the recent election.

AIR SURVEYS IN CANADA SAID TO LEAD WORLD

as far as the executive side was concerned.

FIRE WALKING
Among the subjects of more popular interest was a paper on the native fire walking ceremony in Natal Province by Professor R. U. Saxe. This was read before the anthropology section.

The lectures are being attended by great audiences, even for the most intricate topics, while great numbers of South African scientists and professors are taking full advantage of the interchange of ideas with the specialists from overseas.

SELECTION NEEDED
Summing up his address, Professor Barger said: "If finally I am permitted to draw a conclusion it would be an educational one. I hold it to be desirable that biologists should have at least an elementary knowledge of organic chemistry, in spite of the difficulties imposed by ever-increasing specialization in science. These difficulties are particularly felt in apportioning the time available for medical education among the many subjects of a crowded curriculum, and may to some extent be met by a careful consideration of what is really useful."

The chemical training of the biologist and of the physician should not be identical with the preliminary training of the professional chemist, although it is so in many universities. In order to save time much elementary chemistry, particularly inorganic, must be abandoned, thus making room for those aspects of the subject which have biological applications.

REPUDIATE RIGHT
Due notice that the Colwood Park Racing Association repudiated the right of the city to break off the arrangement under which it had operated at the Willows in 1927 and 1928 was served on the council by E. H. J. Foot, Mr. Foot was accompanied by Percy Fox and Stuart Henderson.

Leo Grogan, official receiver for the Victoria Park Racing Association, and J. B. Clearhue, solicitor for the Australian Automatic Totalisator Company, also attended the meeting.

Mr. Foot was invited to speak. Mayor Ansonb—Whom do you represent, Mr. Foot?

Mr. Foot—I represent the Colwood Park Racing Association. I limit the Victoria Park Racing Association and the Kelowna Sports Association. I understand this is a council meeting to rescind the city's action in repudiating the agreement.

Mayor Ansonb—It is a meeting called to hear what you have got to say, only. There are eight or nine other members of the council here, and I do not know what they are going to do.

Mr. Foot—I understood, from correspondence with R. T. Elliott, the city's counsel, that the city was ready to reconsider its action of Monday last.

Mayor Ansonb—Heard that he had heard nothing of a reconsideration. DID NOT UNDERSTAND

Mr. Foot referred to the city's letter notifying the Colwood Park Association of its intention to nullify the agreement respecting racing at the Willows, and to the company's reply. The company, he said, was at a complete loss to understand the city's attitude, and repudiated its right to take the action it professed.

No default had been made, and, on the contrary, the company, in repudiating the agreement, had taken a loss of $12,000 by racing at the Willows in performance of a moral obligation to do so.

The company, continued Mr. Foot, was awaiting the city's reply to its letter, and tendered a cheque for $2,100, twice placed in the hands of the city.

Mayor Ansonb—You have been in touch with the city's counsel.

Mr. Foot—Yes, I had a letter from Mr. Elliott returning the cheque, which we sent back to the city. My clients advise me they intend to carry on, and they have the possession of the machines and the track.

Alderman E. S. Woodward—Which company has the machines?

Mr. Foot—The Victoria Park Racing Association and the Colwood Park racing company, operating them at Colwood and the Willows I understand from J. B. Clearhue that he has withdrawn the letter to the city, so I take it the basis of the council's resolution is withdrawn. The company intends to carry on the same system of betting as before, and has paid any money due in advance.

were as to whether or not the racing association had or could get possession of the machines, and if so would they use them?

Mr. Foot—The city surely is not concerned in any grievance between the Australian company and my clients.

There had been some differences, but these were of a mere settlement, and there had been no breach of agreement with the makers of the machines, he said. His clients had physical possession of the machines and intended to use them, said Mr. Foot.

LARGE S MS INVOLVED
If any rumor of mushroom operations had affected the city's mind, he continued, it was only fair to his clients to state that it took $35,000 to supply the automatic betting machines with change, and that $6,000 had been paid in duty and sales tax to get the machines into the country.

The reversion in the Victoria Park Racing Association affairs was a sense to be construed as an act of bankruptcy, but a customary practice done every day to secure control of rents and profits in any mortgage agreement, continued Mr. Foot.

SALE NEGOTIATIONS
In conclusion he would state that negotiations for the sale of the Colwood track to local interests were well advanced, and the purchasers would direct settlement of the debts of both companies. The necessary order had been signed by a judge in Vancouver that morning, and negotiations were nearly completed.

Mayor Ansonb—Inquired whether there would be money sufficient to satisfy the debenture holders of the Victoria Park Racing Association, as well as the unsecured creditors, among which latter class listed the city in respect to a $240 water bill.

Mr. Foot—Colwood will be bought as a going concern. It is unfair to say we owe $240 for water, when the consumption was partly that of the Wilfert Lumber Company and the Rosebank Lime Company on the same line, as I am informed. Under this settlement the debts, approximately $3,500, will be paid.

Alderman J. L. Mara: Are you going to have the automatic betting machines or not?

MACHINES CONTEMPLATED
Mr. Foot: We contemplate using the same machines.

Alderman E. S. Woodward wanted to know what the withdrawal of the letter by J. B. Clearhue, alleging the machines would not be available, meant. Mr. Elliott, in reply, was of the opinion that though the letter might be withdrawn, the knowledge it contained could not be taken away. Further, he said, no undertaking that the machines would actually be used had been accorded to the city.

Mayor Ansonb: Will Mr. Foot produce to us from the Australian totalisator concern a statement saying the machines will be used, or can be used at the Willows track?

Mr. Foot: Negotiations are under way now. Our statement is that the machines will be used. We have them in our physical possession, and we intend to use them. All royalties have been paid up to date, and there is nothing against my clients.

Mayor Ansonb: We are to understand you are going to use the machines?

Mr. Foot: Yes, we expect to race at Colwood on August 8, and are prepared to operate at the Willows later.

Here Mr. Foot read extracts from the agreement of lease by which the Colwood Park Racing Association had operated at the Willows. The cancellation of the agreement was not open to the city, which had merely right of suspension for failure to use the system of betting outlined, after that failure had been demonstrated, he said. Even then provision was made for an arbitration, failing an amicable settlement.

Alderman William Marchant: If you are allowed to proceed, do you anticipate any difficulty in the use of the machines or in fulfilling any other requirement of the agreement?

Mr. Foot: We do not anticipate any difficulty whatever.

Alderman J. L. Mara: One of these companies is in the hands of a receiver. Are the machines also in the hands of the receiver?

Mr. Foot: Absolutely not, they are not in the hands of a receiver.

Alderman E. S. Woodward: Would the receiver hand the machines over to the new company, or back to Mr. Clearhue as a representative for the make?

ASSIGNMENT MOOTED
Alderman J. L. Mara: I am free to say that all this has altered my viewpoint. If I had had these additional statements I would not have voted for the action we took last Monday. I would have no hesitation in revoking my personal attitude on the matter.

Mr. Foot—We cannot understand the attitude of the council. On the strength of the letter from Mr. Clearhue, why did not the city get in touch with us for a statement? The first intimation we had was in the press, and we couldn't believe it to be right. Our agreement is solely with the city, and common courtesy would have dictated that we be first approached.

Mayor Ansonb—Common courtesy should have induced you to notify the city when Mr. Clearhue notified you that you could not use the machines. Mr. Foot—We did not recognize that notice, and we intended to use them. The dispute as to the machines did not cancel our agreement with the city, and yet you propose to make arrangements with someone else.

Mr. Foot—I understand Mr. Clearhue is prepared to cable Australia for permission for us to use the machines.

MR. CLEARHUE'S OFFER
Mr. Clearhue—I was drawn into this thing. As a matter of fact I was amazed at the manner in which my letter was used. I did not intend to offer to Mr. Foot this morning, and if the city was willing to carry on with the agreement, I am prepared to cable Australia to see if the machines may be used; or to run races without the machines this year, if I fall to get them.

Mayor Ansonb—They certainly haven't satisfied me that the machines are in a mechanical condition to be used and can be used. Thank you for coming, Mr. Foot, and if there is any change in the situation we will tell you.

Stating that the action of the city at its Monday meeting had been prejudicial to the interests of his clients, and that he hoped that the situation would be cleared up without delay, Mr. Foot and the delegation withdrew.

On the retirement of the public the council went into a committee of the whole, and formulated the action taken finally in the decision to call for tenders fresh.

COLD SLAW IS GOOD DISH FOR THANKSGIVING DINNER

By Florence La Gank

In discussing the menu for the Thanksgiving dinner, Lois and her mother had decided on cold slaw in place of more elaborate salads. They felt that the richness of the rest of the dinner demanded something plain, simple and quite flavoured. In talking about slaw Lois insisted there was only one kind which was taboo. This was the one similar to that served at so many public dining-rooms and church suppers. "You know what I mean, mother, that one with long strings of cabbage dripping a thin, yellow dressing which is over-bitter with mustard," Mrs. Aston knew only too well.

COLE SLAW.

They followed this rule—put cabbage to soak overnight in lightly salted water. Next morning, drain and pull off outer discolored leaves. Cut cabbage in shreds, then chop in chopping bowl. Do not try to use hard core. To every cup of chopped cabbage add one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, one-quarter cup thick cream, sweet or sour, and two tablespoons vinegar. Stir well and let stand a half hour. A few caraway or celery seeds may be sprinkled over top.

They might have made this old-time cooked dressing: Bring one cup vinegar to boiling point, add two tablespoons sugar and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat yolks of two eggs with one-half cup thick cream. Pour hot vinegar slowly over this, put back in double boiler for two minutes to cook egg yolks. Chill, pour over chopped cabbage.

HUNDRED GUIDES SPENT HAPPY DAYS AT CAMP

Enjoyable Holiday Under Canvas at Saanich Brought to Close Sunday

One hundred Victoria Girl Guides, who have enjoyed the delights of camp life since July 11 in the grounds of Bradley Dyne, on the West Saanich Road, returned to Victoria on Sunday.

Most of the children were taken out in private cars through the kindness of Mrs. George and her friends, while at the same time another fifty girls from Saanich, Sidney and Langford joined the campers. When the campsite was reached the Guides felt enthusiastically upon the piles of equipment awaiting them and great competition for mattresses took place with which to pitch the 32 tents. By supper all three groups were comfortably established under Miss Leighton, who was also commandant for the whole camp. Miss Stirling and Miss Gale.

SWIMMING RACES

The site, which was new, proved excellent, with a hardworking but unfailing well, reasonably warm sea bathing in a good beach and a perfectly beautiful view of the Saanich Inlet. Bathing took place twice daily and on visitors' day swimming races were keenly contested from an enormous raft made by the leading swimmers under the energetic direction of Miss Gale. The camp was also indebted to Mr. Peetz for the loan of a boat which was invaluable for the swimming picket, and provided a lot of joy at other times.

The Guides cooked meals for nearly fifty people every day in each group, under the direction of three hard-working quartermasters, who were justifiably thankful for the quantities of milk and fruit available in the district.

SLEEP IN OPEN

The quartermasters seemed to think the weather too hot, but others did not complain and the whole lot slept out nearly every night, including last Friday night, so that at midnight when it began to rain the Guides took a lot of wholesome exercise and learned much about the powers of sleep of an average child, while urging, pulling and pushing people into their tents.

One gallant sleeper never stirred an eyelash, although she was hauled bed and all across five or six yards of tremely rough ground and over a tent peg.

Visitors' days produced large crowds of friends and relations from all over the peninsula—not to mention generous supplies of fruit and cakes which alleviated the lot of the quartermasters. The west and east Victoria commissioners, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. George, and Mrs. Gale, the south Saanich commissioner, spent two nights in camp. Miss Wigley, president of the Victoria Local Association; Mrs. Goddard, president of the Saanich Local Association; Mr. Ravenhill, Boy Scout Commissioner, and many others visited the camp. Mrs. Morkill, Provincial Commissioner, came out on Saturday and, after being entertained to supper by group three, stayed for the camp fire, when she congratulated all concerned on a very successful ten days, and on behalf of the whole camp, thanked General Gwynne, Mr. and Mrs. Godwin, Mrs. and Miss Gale, and the many other friends in Saanich who had made it possible to hold the largest camp ever held in the division and a new site, where conditions were not familiar to the Guides. Miss Leighton then spoke on the splendid work of the Guides as a whole and especially the quartermasters, and made appropriate presentations to the commandants and quartermasters.

HIKES

A special feature of this year were the hikes for the first class badge, during which the examiners had to entertain their examinees and place them with a meal, cooked on a hike fire. The guides appointed for this duty aroused much envy and hatred by their glowing accounts of good meals which they enjoyed in great space and quiet. A number of Guides also qualified for the athlete's and sportswoman badges.

On Sunday sixty Guides marched to the church at Patricia Bay, while the commandant held a short Guide's Own for the remainder, at which Mrs. Kinloch, Cowichan Valley commissioner, read the Gospel, and the camp car took the Roman Catholic contingent into Sidney to church.

The camp car it may be remarked got into a deep ditch on arrival in camp, but was joyously hauled out by the Guides, who were greatly surprised to find it quite easy to do.

SPORTS

Intergroup competitions were very evenly divided this year, the first group winning the baseball, the second group the swimming and the guides of the third group gloried in winning the guides' tip and run match, being the proud possessors of a champion cricketer in their commandant.

The health of the camp was good, although unfortunately one case of mumps developed on the last day and was sent home by the health officer. Considering that the camp contained 150 children, drawn from all parts of the Saanich Peninsula, this is an extremely low percentage for this year.

CAMP NURSE BUSY

Miss Lee, the camp nurse, was kept busy with work and was a very handsome sample herself, but there were no cases of serious illness or accident, and it was with feelings of universal regret that the camp broke up according to plan on Sunday, July 21.

KUMTUKS GATHER AT CAMP FIRE

Miss Lottie Bowron Tells of Trip East at Picnic Party

At the picnic supper held last evening by the Kumtuks Club at the home of Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw, Cordova Bay, Miss Lottie Bowron gave her report on her trip east, where she attended a council of Canadian business women called to gether for the purpose of forming a Federation of Professional and Business Women in Canada.

About thirty guests were present last night and after supper, sat around a large bonfire on the beach, attentive listeners to Miss Bowron's story of the work being done in the east by women who were interested in the same as those who are members of the Kumtuks Club.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw for their hospitality which has been tendered the club on previous occasions.

The next picnic of the club will be held on August 5 at 4 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. H. Todd, Fairfield Road.

TRAYS HELP TO SAVE LABOR

By SISTER MARY

Trays can save time and labor. A guest will appreciate breakfast in bed and the hostess without a maid or with one maid will have several hours free for work. It is less work to prepare an attractive tray and send it into the guest room than it is to try to serve a fastidious breakfast to the entire family. Family breakfasts are usually informal and hurried and the guest who has no office hours to keep and no need to indulge in a leisurely breakfast may not enjoy the atmosphere of haste.

The breakfast tray need not be elaborate. Fruit, cereal, toast and eggs and coffee, the very same meal which is prepared for the family, can be served. Be sure to select a tray large enough to accommodate all the dishes without being crowded. Indiscreet breakfast sets are attractive, of course, but by no means necessary. Neatness and spotlessness are the only requisites. Take care not to fill dishes too full. The jar of carrying may make them spill.

FOR LOVELY LUNCHEONS

When any member of the family must lunch alone, why not serve the luncheon on a tray? An attractive tray carried to a cool spot on the porch, living-room or garden, does much to cheer a lonely luncheon and refreshes as well as feeds.

A tray dinner or supper during warm weather is pleasant for the family or guests. Each person should have a tray and serve himself cafeteria style from the dining-table. He can then join the group on the porch or lawn to eat. This tray service simplifies serving and is a change for the housewife as well as the family.

Whenever a meal must be served out of hours, so to speak, the use of trays will save the dining-table and many steps. The tray is taken to the kitchen all set with the silver, ready for the dishes of food. When ready to serve, it is taken wherever it is wanted and the dining-room remains in its between-meal order.

A pendulum clock gained, owing to the increase of gravity with latitude, about one minute and twenty seconds a day when taken from Ottawa to the mouth of Mackenzie river, Northwest Territories, by the Dominion Observatory in connection with its gravity work. Taken about 5,000 feet up a mountain side in British Columbia it lost about thirteen seconds daily.

Pirates Gain In Gruelling National League Race

Paul Waner Leads Heavy Assault On Dodgers' Hurlers

Pittsburgh Sluggers Shell Moore, Dudley and Ballou for Nineteen Hits, Including Two Home Runs; Waner Clicks Out Three Hits, Including a Homer; Now Hold Game and a Half Lead Over Chicago Cubs; All Other National and American League Teams Idle.

Thanks to the erratic Brooklyn Dodgers, the roving Pirates of Pittsburgh have added another half game to their slender lead over the Chicago Cubs in the gruelling National League pennant struggle.

While all other major league clubs were idle yesterday, the Pirates shelled three Dodger pitchers for sixteen lustrous hits and coasted in with a 13-3 victory.

Thus the Bushman boosted their lead over the Cubs to a game and a half. All in the games won column, a slender enough advantage, but better than none at all. The game preserved surface indications of a real contest for only three innings, the Pirates got two runs in the first and drove Austin Moore out of the box with two more in the second, while the Dodgers contented themselves with single runs in the second and third innings to bring the score to 4-2 against them at the end of the third.

Dudley assaulted them in the third but he was rudely assaulted in the fourth. Three singles and a double interspersed with walks, two sacrifices and two Brooklyn errors gave the Corsairs seven runs and to all intents and purposes the old ball game was well.

Dudley staggered around in nearly every inning but kept the Pirates from the home plate until the eighth. Paul Waner started this frame with a home run into the right field stands, his third hit of the game. Clark, the Pirates' rookie third baseman, promptly tripled to left field and Dudley was relieved by Win Ballou. Clark scored on an infield out but Ballou then retired the side.

Erwin Brame, who had pitched steady ball all the way eased up in the ninth and a double and two singles gave the Dodgers their final tally before Herman's poppy ended the game. All other National League clubs had an open day as did all American League clubs but Cleveland and Philadelphia whose game was rained out at the Quaker City.

Ottawa, July 23.—On behalf of the Government and people of Canada, Premier King yesterday cabled congratulations to members of the Canadian team at Bisley for their splendid achievements at the great Empire meet of the National Rifle Association.

To Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair of Vancouver, winner of the King's Prize, the Premier's message was as follows: "On behalf of the Government and people of Canada, I extend to you my heartiest congratulations upon the great distinction you have brought to our country and yourself in winning the King's Prize at Bisley. Your fellow countrymen feel the greatest pride in your achievement and that of other members of the Canadian team."

Old Country Cricket
London, July 23.—Kent won an impressive victory against Sussex by an innings and 27 runs in an English first-class cricket match yesterday. Freeman, who took seven Sussex wickets for 16 runs on Saturday, followed up this fine performance by capturing six wickets for 69 yesterday.

Kent 233, Sussex 69 and 137. The match, which began on Saturday, ended before lunch time yesterday. It took place at Maidstone.

The tense struggle in progress at Bristol between Gloucestershire and Nottinghamshire in a county cricket match attracted attention from lovers of this game yesterday. Both clubs are contenders for championship honors. At the end of yesterday's play the scores were: Gloucestershire 166, Notts 218 and 105 for seven wickets.

Middlesex defeated Derbyshire by a rather hollow fashion. The scoring was: Middlesex 186 and 110 for two wickets, Derbyshire 171 and 98. Middlesex won by eight wickets.

Yorkshire 239 for four wickets, declared; Essex 143 and 113. South Africa won from Scotland at Perth by an innings and 5 runs. South Africa scored 297 and Scotland 148 and 144.

LACROSSE GAME ON TO-NIGHT

Oaklands Out to Make it Two Straight in City Championship Series

Out to make it two in a row, the Oaklands lacrosse team will face South Park in the second of the five-game play-off series for the city title at the Royal Athletic Park to-night. The game will commence at 6.30 o'clock.

Previous to the meeting of the provincial section of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada it was understood that the winners of the Victoria series would play the mainland champions for the B.C. title. However the A.A.U. sent out an ultimatum to the local association stating that unless it affiliated with the amateur body it would not be allowed to compete against the mainlanders for the provincial championship.

Nevertheless the boys are expected to enter their match with plenty of spirit to-night and should give a good exhibition. Frank Smith will handle the whistle. The teams will be as follows: Oaklands—Borde, Burnett, Taylor, C. Chapman, Alexander, Merriman, L. Chapman, Williams, A. Chapman, Sweeney, Cockin, Nicol, Duckworth, Wiggins and McKenzie. South Park—Bradley, C. Bissell, Sheret, D. Bissell, Bryant, Jean, Brown, Ezart, Cann, Plater, Hardy, Corry, Taylor, Margison, Clarke, Akins and McDonald.

Claiming Events Hold Sway On Two Main U.S. Tracks

New York, July 23.—Claiming events held sway on the two major tracks of the United States Arlington Park and Empire City yesterday.

Five of the six races at Empire City were of the $1,000 claiming variety. The fourth number on the card—a six-furlong sprint for three-year-olds and up—brought out the best class of the afternoon's programme. W. A. Rosen's Chatahochee, at 7 to 1, won the event, known as the Swift purse. Chester was second, while Hanouienne took down show money.

The Goldstream stud's three-year-old gelding, Eskimo, ran his string of victories at Arlington Park to five as he won the midway handicap—a mile race on a card that had four claiming events. Jean Valjean raced to second place, while Hanouienne took down show money.

THE BIG SIX
The quiet in all but one sector of the major league battlefronts gave Paul Waner, "Big Poison" of the Pirates, a chance to edge up a bit yesterday in the standing of the Big Six. Waner clouted a home run, double and single in the Pirates onslaught of the Robins, and added four points to his fifth place average, now .337.

Will at Last Risk His Title

New York, July 23.—Three fistie champions enter the ring this week but only one is taking his title with him.

Joe Dundee, whose welterweight championship crown has clung to the top of his head chiefly because the Baltimore Italian has deemed it inexpedient to place it in jeopardy, battles Jackie Fields, Pacific Coast star, in a titular bout at Floyd Fitzsimmons' new arena in Detroit Thursday night.

The battle is set for fifteen rounds, first at that distance in Michigan. Dundee has lost numerous decisions in non-titular battles, his most recent setbacks being a two-round knockout at the hands of young Jack Thompson and two decision defeats at the hands of Al Meilo.

Fields, recognized as 147-pound champion by the National Boxing Association, has waged through an imposing list of first-class welterweights and probably will enter the ring a favorite.

ROTTS TO FIGHT
New York's fans will see both Andre Routis, featherweight champion, and Bushy Callahan, junior welterweight titleholder, in action at Ebbets Field Wednesday night, but neither is risking his crown. Routis is to battle Al Singer in the main ten-rounder, Callahan will tackle Jack (Kid) Berg of England, a lightweight, in the semi-final. Another ten-rounder between Stanislaus Loayza of Chile and Joey Medill of Chicago, lightweights, completes the outstanding bouts on the card which is for the benefit of the Wingate Memorial Fund.

R. T. Caiger, Outstanding Veteran at Bisley Meets Since 1860, Passes Away

London, July 23.—R. T. Caiger, outstanding veteran of the National Rifle Association's meetings at Bisley Camp, died last night at the age of eighty-nine years. He was known and beloved by marksmen from Great Britain and all parts of the Empire.

Caiger saw Queen Victoria fire the opening shot in the first N.R.A. meeting, held in 1860. He competed himself for the Queen's Prize that year and many years since, and until the last meeting which concluded last Saturday, had never missed a single meeting.

Right up to the last Caiger could sing a song with the best of the visiting marksmen.

Fighter Badly Injured When Man Stabs Him
Tacoma, July 23.—Jimmy Rivers, formerly well-known to the Pacific northwest as a pugilist, was seriously if not fatally wounded in a knife affray here last night. His alleged assailant, F. Mack, forty-seven, was arrested and, according to the police, admitted stabbing Rivers.

Rivers was stabbed five times about the head and neck. The fight followed an argument in a local cafe.

Giant Argentine Heavy Matched With Tom Heeney
New York, July 23.—Victorio Campolo, latest Argentine heavyweight threat, has been matched for a ten-round contest with Tom Heeney, the veteran New Zealand, on August 14, at Ebbetts Field, Promoter Humbert Fugazy announced yesterday.

Campolo in his United States debut recently won on a foul from Arthur DeKuh.

Mike De Muschio, Rutgers south-paw, pitched a no-hit no-run game against Manhattan College, fanning fourteen men. He walked one.

Magician Needed To Put Speed Into Heavyweight Bouts

Some Process Necessary in Order to Give Fans Action for Their Money; Recent Schmeling-Paolino Bout Was Slow, Stalling Affair, But Movies Made it Look Fast; California Commissioners "Throw 'em Out" for Stalling; Schmeling Can Move Fast for Flat-footed Fighter.

By ROBERT EDGREN

I saw the moving pictures of the recent Schmeling-Paolino fight. The fight looked pretty good. In fact, there seemed to be much more action than was visible that night from the ringside at the Yankee Stadium. Schmeling, without ever lifting his heels from the floor, flat-footed as a weight-lifter, seemed to shuffle around with quite satisfactory speed at times, and Paolino was jumping in and out and swinging and hooking punches that went over apparently with plenty of snap behind them. No doubt about it at all. It was a good fight—in the pictures. Much better than the dragging, tiresome pushing and hauling match in the ball park. There must be some reason for the difference.

So I dragged out the old stop-watch and tried timing the rounds. That gave the thing away. A three-minute round was run off in the pictures in exactly two minutes and ten seconds. No wonder Schmeling and Paolino look fast on the screen, although in the ring they showed about the agility of a couple of hobo-carriers climbing a ladder.

SPEED UP FIGHTS
If someone could invent a speeding-up process for use during the fights, so that the spectators who have paid in the gate money could see some action instead of the customary stalling, it would be worth a fortune to any promoter. Houdini, master of illusion, could have done it. Perhaps Houdini, if still with us, might have the fighters do their stuff, at their normal speed, somewhere under the ring. Then there'd be some mirror arrangement, with an accelerating device comparable to running a picture film at high speed through a projector, so that the effect seen by the spectators would be real action. The fighters could box five minutes in the round instead of three, and then the action could be flashed up to the crowd condensed into three minutes. That would be about right.

I was talking with one of the best-known old-timers around New York—very intimately connected with boxing in New York just now. I won't mention his name because the boxing commission might jump on his neck for talking.

This is what he had to say about the Schmeling-Paolino bout: "They didn't fight. But they fought just about as much as most of the big fellows these days. When I was fighting we'd expect to be thrown out of the ring if we pulled anything like that. They should have been thrown out. But you can't throw 'em out now. Everybody's doing it. I've seen better fights between big men for fifteen hundred dollars, and look what those guys got—about seventy thousand each. It's a crime."

At any rate the boxing commission has set a precedent in the matter of refusing to let painfully-cautious ring financiers get the money. There was a fight between Ace Hudson and Charles Belanger in San Francisco recently. It seems that the Wildcat didn't claw as usual, and Belanger didn't live up to his advance notices, or something of the sort. In any case it was a very tame bout.

Note the result: The state boxing commission took over the money that was to have been paid the fighters, purely on the ground that they hadn't delivered the goods. Commissioner Hanlon issued a public statement: "The referee has evidence whatever of collusion, he said, 'or anything dishonest. But it has been clearly shown that neither of the contestants put forth his best effort.'"

Hudkins didn't collect the $13,000 he expected to get, and Belanger's $1,800 went into the Commission's safe. Was a large sum—but interestingly enough that fighters who draw crowds that pay to see them fight will have to fight for what they get—in California.

WOULD CAUSE ERUPTION
But imagine applying that to one of the big fights! In the east, what a yelp would come from the New York Commission had held up that $142,000 or so and turned it back to the Milk Fund on the ground that Schmeling and Paolino "didn't put forth their best efforts." But of course they may have put forth their best efforts. In which case I'll remark merely that best efforts of that grade and quality certainly weren't worth $142,000.

The boxing authority mentioned several paragraphs above said more about the Schmeling-Paolino fight. Among other things he made these interesting remarks: "Schmeling can move fast, if he is flat footed. He was fast enough against Sekyra, and Sekyra is a good clever boxer."

"Schmeling will lick Sharkey if they ever fight. He's too tough for Sharkey and I think if Schmeling ever gets into a fight where he needs heart he'll have plenty of it."

PAOLOIN BADLY CUT
"He showed plenty of punch when he fought Risako. Max had the first three rounds, and then Johnny—you know how tough he is—took the fight away from him. And then Schmeling socked him. Nobody had a better look at the Schmeling-Paolino fight than I did. Paolino was hit plenty of punches. He was badly cut up around the eyes at the finish, and he got a lot of them on the chin. But I noticed that in the last two rounds, when he couldn't see very well, he cut loose and carried the fight to Schmeling, and Schmeling couldn't drop him. I particularly watched Paolino's legs. They were as strong as ever—not a sign of weakening. Schmeling had a good punch for Risako, but he didn't show much punch with Paolino. Perhaps that gang of managers has ruined him—making him too cautious because of the money."

"Schmeling is good, but he's no Dempsey. No an that was easy to hit ever stood up long with Jack."

am sure there is less cause for concern over the precise form in which it is made. Hence a comfortable, easy position in hitting the ball is one fundamental requisite. It tends to steadiness in hitting because a minimum of effort is needed, and it further eliminates any consideration of any special method or pose, a thing which of itself means the breaking up of concentration on hitting the ball. Every time a thought is given to stance or stroke it is so much taken away from the accomplishment of the one purpose.

For a long time I tried to imitate Hagen's stance or Freddie McLeod's. I even procured a putter like Hagen's in an effort to secure results approaching his. But in the end I found I could do better in my own way with nothing to worry about except finding the cup. Most of the time that is enough to assure a busy afternoon.

SWING OF CLUB
What I have said above about the stroke and its importance, is intended to refer to a peculiar type of stroke, of course, and not the element of smoothness in swinging the club, which is paramount in all this putting. For ability to make the ball truly is a most important factor. Furthermore, this ability is one thing which may be acquired by practice. The ability to pick out the proper line to the hole, and to allow properly the speed and slope of the green, is more or less a gift. But the factor of true hitting is an important one. It is very seldom that a putt, started upon the intended line, falls to drop into the hole or to stop very close to it.

DO NOT LOOK UP
Probably because the objective is so very close, in putting, there is almost overwhelming temptation to lift the head, an effort to learn where the putt will stop before the ball has fairly started upon its way. Although we know that after the ball is struck the damage, if any, is done past recall, an effort to learn where the putt will stop before the ball has fairly started upon its way. Although we know that after the ball is struck the damage, if any, is done past recall, an effort to learn where the putt will stop before the ball has fairly started upon its way. Although we know that after the ball is struck the damage, if any, is done past recall, an effort to learn where the putt will stop before the ball has fairly started upon its way.

The most common manifestation of looking up is a continual half-topping of approach shots. Struck with a swing ample for the distance, the ball is fairly struck, the half-top invariably leaves the ball short of the hole, often with a bothersome second putt to make.

A very fine remedy, although it may seem a bit drastic, is to keep the head down until the ball has stopped rolling. I know some very fine putters who do this. The result is that the putt is fair, the half-top invariably leaves the ball short of the hole, often with a bothersome second putt to make.

QUITE AT HOME
The contrast between the above conditions and the way Miss Collett now goes about putting is startling. It would be hard to picture a golfer more at home in her manner on the greens than she. The three, four and six-footers that are so troublesome seem to bother her not at all any more. No longer does she concern herself, so far as one can see, about the position of her feet, her general pose, and so on. She walks up to the ball with an air of confidence, falls into an easy position, places the club, once in front of the ball, once back of it, and that is all. Her putting style now is a perfect model of ease and simplicity.

HITTING IMPORTANT
I am mentioning these observations about Miss Collett's play because it illustrates the point made in Alec Smith's remark. The important thing is to get the ball into the hole, and too much worrying about the details of how the hitting is done is fatal to good putting. The stroke is of less importance in putting than in any other department of golf. At least, I

DON'T GAZE TOO LONG
The great danger is, of course, that in remembering to look at the ball, all conception of distance and speed will be lost. The range of the putt is so very important that it is essential that the ball for an appreciable length of time may be as bad as looking-up. In no case must the player concentrate his attention upon the ball long enough for his visual measurement of distance to be disturbed. It is very like the matter of throwing a stone—a quick look at the objective and the throw. It is not necessary to look long at the ball, if it is hit without delay.

Yet in the final analysis, there is little room for entertaining the hope that putting may be reduced to a science. It is not likely that anyone will ever attain so close to perfection that he will be able to hole out from fifteen or twenty feet with reasonable certainty. So I think we waste time and energy in trying to perfect a putting stroke which will be as accurate and as certain as that of a steam engine piston. There are too many other things which have to be right, and every one of them is susceptible to human error.

THREE CHINESE IN CALIFORNIA FACING TRIAL

San Francisco, July 23.—Acting on orders from Washington, the United States attorney's office here to-day proceeded with plans to prosecute Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kuo, ex-Chinese vice-consul and his wife, and Sun Foon, former chancellor of the Chinese consulate here, on charges of attempting to smuggle opium from China.

Instructions from the Attorney-General's office in Washington, however, indicated they were to be bound over to the federal court, and at that stage further action would be advised from Washington.

The three Chinese were arrested after opium valued at $600,000 was found in Mrs. Kuo's baggage.

NEW PACTS ON WAGES SOUGHT

Cotton, Wool and Coal Mine Discussions in Great Britain

London, July 23 (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The clouds are rising in Manchuria, but they hang heavily over British industry. London newspapers are more concerned with the three-fold crisis in British industry than with the Sino-Russian dispute. The deadlock in the cotton trade over the employers' notice of a reduction of 12.82 per cent in wages continues. Unless settlement is reached, half a million operatives will be locked out at the end of this week. A similar situation is developing in the wool trade. Employers in this great industry have submitted to the joint industrial council of the wool trade over the application for all-round reduction in wages. The amount of reduction is not announced, but it is understood to be about ten per cent.

COAL MINES
The miners continue their demand for repeal of the eight-hour day act. Premier Ramsay MacDonald is to make a statement on the Government's position to-day in the House of Commons. Meanwhile the Labor newspaper, The London Daily Herald, argues editorially that "in the final analysis, the remedy lies with basic reorganization of industry."

EXECUTION AT OAKALLA TO-DAY

Dominico Nassa Hanged For Murder of Antonio Augustino in December Last

Vancouver, July 23.—Dominico Nassa was hanged at the Oakalla Jail at 7:50 this morning for the murder of his fiancée's father, Antonio Augustino, last December. Arthur Ellis, official executioner, carried out the execution. The murder of Antonio Augustino, a Dominico Nassa followed a dispute as to the marriage of Nassa and Mary Augustino. Nassa wishing to take place immediately and Augustino wishing a postponement. Following an argument, Nassa shot Augustino dead in the kitchen of the latter's home and then pursued his fiancée and her brother, pistol in hand, into the street. He was found guilty at the spring assizes and on April 23 was sentenced to death.

Nassa went to his death without flinching. Just before the end the Italian, smiling, said in his softly accented English: "Well, gentlemen, I was always a nice boy, but I made one mistake. Good-bye."

Esquimalt to Settle Playing Field Issue Through New By-law

The advisability of constructing a playing field in Esquimalt, a question which has been reviewed by the council of that municipality for the last eighteen months, will be referred to the ratepayers of Esquimalt in the form of a money by-law at the next municipal election, it was decided by the council at its meeting last night. The matter came to a head when the report from the municipal engineer, setting the estimated cost of such an undertaking at $3,550, was read. A suggestion that the land be cleared at a cost of approximately $450 was made by Reeve, Elrick during the meeting, but was left when the council voted upon the question and decided to suspend all activities relating to the playing field until the election. What this will delay the construction of the ground a considerable time, should the by-law pass. Esquimalt will have money enough to construct a first class field, Councillor A. Heald remarked. Complete plans and specifications for the field will be drawn up and placed upon the by-law when it is submitted to the ratepayers.

PUBLIC OPINION

Nowadays is bitterly hostile to any form of foolishness which endangers life and property. The Reckless Driver, the Man Who Rocks the Boat, the Man Who Didn't Know it was Loaded, are gradually disappearing under pressure of public opinion. The Man Who is Careless with Fire is the greatest menace of them all. Let public opinion focus upon him.

FOUR MISSING PERSONS HUNTED

Youth Lost in Nevada and Two Women and Man in California

San Francisco, July 23.—Four missing persons, two of them women, were being sought in rugged wilds of Northern California and in the desert regions southwest of Las Vegas, Nevada to-day, with the lack of clues in each case making it difficult for the search parties.

William Lundberg, twenty, a San Diego junior college graduate, missing since last Saturday from the Potomac Mine, twenty miles southwest of Las Vegas, Nevada, was feared to have perished from thirst in the desert.

WOMAN RANCHER MISSING

The mystery of the disappearance of Miss Irene Wolfkill, fifty-five, wealthy Solano County, Cal., ranch owner, seemed destined to-day to remain unsolved as Sheriff John B. Thornton called his men off the search. Private trackers, however, spurred on by the posting of a $1,000 reward, continued the hunt for the heiress, missing from her ranch near Fairfield for more than a week.

AGED WOMAN MISSING

In Mendocino County authorities resumed the search for Mrs. E. N. Rowe, seventy-seven, of Albion, missing since last Thursday, when she left her home on a berry picking excursion. Little hope is felt that the aged woman will be found alive, searchers fearing she died of exposure and hunger.

SEARCH FOR BETTS

The search for Colonel H. M. H. Betts, former Canadian army officer, last seen near Lake Tahoe July 7, veered to Sacramento to-day. Police were told last night that a man answering the description of Colonel Betts had purchased a pair of glasses in that city July 16.

Aviation Securities Up 20,000 Per Cent In Last Three Years

New York, July 23.—Public optimism has supplied promoters and manufacturers in aviation with an excess of capital, according to Barron's Financial Weekly, which compares the present evolution of aviation to the initial stages of radio between 1923 and 1926 and the automobile industry between 1910 and 1920.

"Many of the manufacturing plants thus situated will be eliminated in competition of the coming corrective stage," says the magazine. "The market value of aviation securities in the past three years has increased from less than $3,000,000 to over $1,000,000,000, an appreciation of 20,000 per cent. Earnings in 1928 would, by the most conservative estimate, not considerably less than 1 per cent on this market value."

Cold Hints

When serving cold cuts and salad for summer suppers or luncheons, be sure that your plates are chilled thoroughly.

When you have left over boiled chicken or meat that you intend using later as cold cuts, put it back into the juice in which it was cooked and allow to cool before putting into the ice box. This makes it tastier and juicier.

LT.-GOVERNOR GIVES TROPHY

A personal trophy for the best aggregate in weight events at the Banff Highland gathering to be held from August 30 to September 2 will be donated by Lieut.-Governor R. Randolph Bruce. This presentation is emblematic of the great interest displayed in the gathering during which the Dominion amateur track championships will be held.

The cup is a challenge trophy, remaining in the permanent possession of a winner only after two years' successive victory in obtaining the highest number of points for four throwing events which include shot putting and tossing the caber. These events, open to all Canada, are strictly under the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada rules.

Pipers from coast to coast will skirt and drone to the accompaniment of Scottish lads and lassies as they dance in the lee of the mountain-side before gaily dressed judges.

Hon. T. R. Bavin, Premier of New South Wales, Australia, will be unable to address the Men's Canadian Club here, according to word received by Frank J. Sehl, secretary. Pressing engagements in Vancouver preclude the possibility of Mr. Bavin being heard here.

LIVE HAPPIER HERE THAN IN LARGER CITIES

Brooke Stephenson Reports to Victoria Kiwanians on International Convention

Living Conditions in Victoria Notably Superior to Eastern Cities

"Victoria is the coming place to live in. In some parts of this continent the people are only existing. You fellows here are living like millionaires and do not know it," declared Brooke Stephenson, president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, this afternoon at the Empress Hotel, at the conclusion of his report upon the proceedings at the Kiwanis International Convention at Milwaukee. "You cannot live as well, or in such comfort, in any other part of the world. We do not know when we are well off," he stated.

One of the outstanding events of the convention was presented by Harold M. Digson of his resolution denouncing "nest, great war" talk and publicity. The resolution caused a sensation and was supported unanimously. Mr. Stephenson reported.

MILWAUKEE CONDITIONS

Delegates from the Northwest Pacific clubs had held a district meeting on the train en route to Milwaukee, and had been warmly received by the Milwaukee Kiwanians. Mr. Stephenson remarked upon the preponderance of German speech and names at Milwaukee, and that many of the residents had difficulty in speaking English.

Milwaukee was a remarkable industrial city, having large cabinet works, great metal working plants and other industries of importance. The Lake Michigan waterfrontage was occupied by residential districts, industry being relegated to areas served by a system of canals.

The international convention had held its principal gatherings in a hall accommodating 14,000 persons, but ten other halls, as large as the Empress Hotel ballroom, had been impressed for the district and sectional conference meetings.

The convention had opened with singing of "America" and "God Save the King," and a civic welcome by the mayor of Milwaukee. Mr. Stephenson was impressed with the activities of the Milwaukee Civic Alliance, composed of delegates from all the public service organizations of the city.

Mr. Stephenson reviewed the business and social events of the convention and also briefly told of experiences garnered in the course of a brief tour of the eastern states and provinces.

AUTO PERMIT CHANGE MADE

Extension Made For Use of Foreign Cars in Canada For Specified Purposes

An extension clause in the travelers' vehicle permit, which must be taken out by all foreign motorists coming into Canada, is announced by the Federal Department of National Revenue at Ottawa. The extension is provided in certain cases, to permit the use of a foreign motor car in Canada for specified purposes.

In part, the memorandum says: "There have been a number of cases of non-residents coming to Canada by motor car for purposes which precluded their being granted a tourist's permit, such as attending meetings of boards of directors, or conferences of companies, in which they have an interest, visiting actual or prospective industries or plants in which they may have or seek an interest, preaching, teaching or engaging in professional practice for a limited period only, attending school, college or other institution of education or training."

Frontier port officers are now advised that in similar cases they may issue a travelers' vehicle permit without bond or deposit, instructing the visitor to proceed directly to the collector at or nearest to his destination, and to make application in writing to have his permit extended to cover the use of his car for purposes of health or pleasure only, stating the purpose of his visit to Canada and the duration of his stay, and undertaking that his car shall not be used in connection with any commercial or business pursuits.

In reply to a telegram sent to him by F. J. Sehl, secretary of the Victoria Canadian Club, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, stated that he would try to address the club during his western tour.

The reply read as follows: "I am unable to accept at this time your invitation to address the Canadian Club, but will see what can be done when I make my western trip."

RACE TANGLE MAY END IN LITIGATION

Colwood Park Association Limited May Be Forced to Take Action, Says Foot

Cheque For $2,100 Still Before City, States Counsel For Racing Interests

"In view of the city's action, it looks as though the Colwood Park Association Limited would be forced into the position of bringing action against the city to carry out the terms of the agreement of January 28, 1927, under which the company had exclusive rights of racing at the Willows grounds," stated E. H. M. Foot to-day, in commenting on the action taken by the city in respect to the Willows racing concession.

"Paragraph 5 of that agreement," continued Mr. Foot, "specifically provides for suspension only of that part of the agreement relating to the system of betting used, and this paragraph was designed to protect the racing company in the event of the machines not being available, or becoming damaged."

"The action taken by the City Council yesterday does not necessarily affect the position of affairs, and meanwhile the city has no cheque for $2,100," concluded Mr. Foot.

Mrs. G. Hickcox, Santa Ana, Cal., Suffers Serious Injuries in Malahat Collision

Mrs. George Hickcox of Santa Ana, California, who suffered severe cuts about the head and bruises and cuts on the legs in a collision on the Malahat yesterday, was resting easily in the Jubilee Hospital to-day, according to Dr. A. B. Nash, who is attending her.

Mr. O. Bernard of Parkville and Mr. Hickcox were also injured when their cars collided at a point two miles south of Prospect View on the well-known highway yesterday. Both were taken to hospital. Mrs. Bernard returned home to-day.

Provincial Police have not yet received full details of the accident. Constables Carmichael and Wallen attended the scene and found the cars had been in what appeared to be a head-on crash. The injured occupants had been taken to the city by passing motorists.

Both cars were badly smashed. Mrs. Bernard said her injuries were not serious, while Mr. Hickcox, suffered minor bruises and shock.

Who Says Island Not Paradise For Sport Fishermen?

Duncan McKerracher, 2810 Gosworth Road, was driving his automobile from Albert to Port Alberni, while Up-Island last week. He did not stop to go fishing while en route, nor did he stop at a fish store, but when he arrived in Port Alberni he was in possession of a nice, fresh six-pound salmon.

It sounds funny, but this is the way Mr. McKerracher explains it. "I was driving slowly along the highway not far from Port Alberni, when I heard a swish and a thump behind the car. I stopped the car and on getting out saw the salmon, still quivering, about twenty feet from the back of the car."

"It was several hundred yards from the water and I was at a loss to explain it, until I noticed an eagle up above being pursued by two crows. The eagle had evidently been forced to drop its breakfast in its attempts to escape the marauders."

"I did not eat the fish, however," he concluded. "I gave it away when I reached Port Alberni."

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, July 23.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Service says today:

ANOTHER REACTION TO BUY

The advice to take profits in anticipation of a general reaction was quite unanimous in the course of yesterday's market, and was followed to a sufficient extent to bring about a respectable check to the series of strong sessions which have characterized the past several weeks. While many reasons were advanced for the profit-taking advice none of them, other than the one that some very attractive profits were available, should be given any serious consideration. While it is admitted that some very attractive profits are available I see no reason for disposing of stocks such as have been recommended here, since this procedure would provide profits which are decidedly more attractive than the ones which could be secured yesterday. As a matter of fact, I believe that this selling advice was welcomed as providing another opportunity to buy stocks, and is to be expected, the closing movement of yesterday is carried over into the early part of today. I believe that the widely circulated reports of an impending reduction in midcontinent crude petroleum are quite as unfounded as were the predictions of the past two weeks that the price of copper was to be reduced. In addition to providing another attractive level for buying would welcome this public selling as a factor which will make for a reduction in the brokers' sales figures when they are published this week in addition to its tendency to ease money rates.

COMMENT

"Take advantage of this delay which enables you to buy St. Paul preferred below its previous top of the year, and of the opportunity to acquire Missouri, Kansas and Texas below 65, and Kansas City Southern below 110. In the feel good buy U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel."

"North American has established a new record and is finally entering a price range where you can be logically advised to take your profits on a scale up. As you do this, put those profits into Electric Power and Light and National Power and Light, but of which issues are about ready for their advances. In addition to those two utilities continue the purchase of American and Foreign Power."

"Pan American Petroleum has now had that sharp dip which you were advised might be witnessed during the technical condition created in the stock. Use the dip to buy the stock and then hold fast to it. With General Electric at a new record, simply hold your position, but buy Johns-Manville, Associated Drygoods and Pullman."

"Directors of Grigsby Grunow have approved a four for one split up of the stock. When the new stock appears on a when issued basis, buy it. It will be transferred to the New York Stock Exchange in near future, and either before or after that transfer, stage a justified and very substantial advance."

Chrysler went up from 68 1/2 to over 73. Most of the other motors were up two to six points.

Among the issues to rise to new high prices today were: Westinghouse, National Power and Light, Electric Power and Light, Louisville Gas, Best & Company, Central Gas, Bethlehem, International Harvester.

Money held at 7 per cent all day. Sales for the day totaled $3,771,300 shares.

Production in the last week was at slightly over ninety-nine per cent. Independent steels average slightly above ninety-one per cent, or little changed from a preceding week. The average for the industry is around 95 1/2 per cent, against 95 per cent a week ago.

A year ago Steel Corporation was at 75 per cent, and independents at 68 per cent, with the average for the industry around 71 per cent.

RADIO-PANTAGES DEAL TALK

New York, July 23.—Joseph Plunkett, general manager of Radio-Keith-Albee, says that the deal for acquisition of Pantages Theatre chain is still under discussion. The matter is being handled in New York. Mr. Plunkett refused to discuss the deal, but it is understood that he has completed an inspection trip throughout the north-west, where R.K.O. has no representation. Pantages Theatres are in several of the cities visited.

TREND STILL UP

New York, July 23.—Neither speculative enthusiasm, nor volume of transactions have yet grown to a point where more than short lived periods of readjustment would be indicated," say J. S. Bache & Company today.

Prince and Whitney say: "The market will be subject to setbacks from time to time. So far as we can judge, the trend of prices is still up."

POORER BUYING IN STEEL

New York, July 23.—That the movement in U.S. Steel common is noticeably rounding off, indicated by the following compiled by E. A. Pearce: During the month of June, trading in Steel averaged 68,300 shares per day and the stock forged ahead at the rate of 1.6 points per day. Thus far in July, transactions have averaged 828,800 shares a day, while the average gain has been less than one-third of the supply of Steel is increasing, and that the calibre of the recent buying does not measure up to the high standards of the June buying.

CARBIDE SUPPLY FREER

New York, July 23.—E. A. Pierce and Company today say that Union Carbide after advancing fifty points from May low has failed to make any progress during the past two weeks. Its peak was made on July 10, turnover of more than 50,000 shares. Since then, there have been three attempts to run it through to new tops, but each move has stopped on the previous one. The stock acts as though the supply were gaining on the demand, which is the usual forerunner to a reactionary movement.

NEW UTILITIES INVESTMENT TRUST

New York, July 23.—Strong resistance was offered almost from the opening to-day, and selling inspired by the weakness of yesterday was well absorbed in early part of the session. The first real turn for the better came shortly after the beginning of the second hour, when the rail stocks took the lead. Later on, buying spread through the industrials and the utilities. The latter group was stimulated by reports of the formation of an investment trust backed by the Goldman Sachs group and by North American interests. The staunch resistance offered by U.S. Steel common was an important factor in steadying the market and traders appeared to reach the conclusion in the afternoon that the list was still strongly under the influence of excellent second quarter earnings now making their appearance and which for the most part are showing large increases over the same quarter of last year.

Call money was expected to go up today, despite predictions of higher rates. Another increase in crude oil production which brought output to a new high record did not materially affect the petroleum stocks, but served to continue the selling of yesterday.

MOTOR RUMORS DENIED

A denial by authoritative sources of certain rumors affecting General Motors, among them one to the effect that DuPonts were selling their stock in the corporation, served to steady the motor group but the entire market better and resulted in urgent short covering of the motor shares, and advances elsewhere. Further indication of the automotive industry was shown in the Packard report.

The Insul properties in the latter market advancing in sensational fashion. Profit taking of the day was fairly large, and was credited to the account of interests expecting a strong market later on, but was also believed that a technical reaction was under way.

Baltimore and Ohio was very active, but sold off with others of the group. The situation of U.S. Steel is favorable from every viewpoint. The reports of earnings are expected to show a record for all time, exception the war period. Operations into the new quarter are also at a high ratio, which assures a continuation of high earnings. U.S. Steel has now cleared all its outstanding bonded indebtedness, and will shortly retire all the bonds of its subsidiaries. When this is completed, the stock will have no fixed charges ahead of its preferred and common stock, but also have large amounts in debit amortizations. It is estimated that July 85 per share will be saved through the retirement of the indebtedness. So far, only one-third of the needed capital for retirement has been raised through increase in outstanding common stock.

The next step will therefore be a further increase in common, with additional rights to stockholders. Of course, U.S. Steel will use a goodly portion of its surplus cash resources for this retirement, but operations in this retirement are not entirely advantageous to the common stockholders, because its income from its surplus cash has been rather low. Were U.S. Steel free of debts to-day, its 1928 earnings would be well in excess of 82 per share on the present number of shares. Its future is undoubtedly bright, and the stock should early rise higher.

U.S. Realty and Improvement was among the many issues which has not done anything worth while during the past several weeks, despite the advance in many stocks. An issue entirely out of line with the general run of stock it usually moves independently from the market, and is it being said, it moves when it is good and steady. A new group closely identified with large mid-town banking interests has been of late accumulating the stock and also obtained a good sized block of U.S. Realty and Improvement to the outside market. Operations in this issue can be anticipated on short notice, and though the stock may act unattractive for a little while longer.

MOTHER IN IRELAND MADE SONS LONG FOR AMERICA

James Gibbons' mother gathered her children around her by the light of the turf fire and talked to them about the wonders of far away America. James had been born in Baltimore, but when he was still a baby the family had moved to Ireland. Now, when James was thirteen, his father had died, and the mother was undecided as to what she would do.

They lived in a pleasant enough place in Ireland, but the mother was thinking of her children's future. She felt there would be more opportunities for her boys in America. At the same time she knew they liked Ireland and had many friends there. She did not wish to take them away against their will.

So she began talking in the evenings about America, of how poor boys often made great names for themselves there, and of how there were always chances for boys to show how much they could do. She did not suggest that they might go there.

"Mother!" explained James one evening, "why can't we go to America?"

"Why can't we?" echoed the other children.

"We can," said the mother, and they did.

James Gibbons became Cardinal Gibbons and made a name for himself for his wisdom and his kindness. He was born on July 23, 1834.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Hungry Bear

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

If you will kindly remember, I told you in the story last night how Uncle Wiggily bought a new electric machine that froze ice as quickly as a lightning bug. I also told you how Jimble and Jumble, two little boy rabbits, pulled the freezing coil part of the ice-box out, put it on the kitchen floor and then squirted water all over the floor so it would make a skating pond when the water turned into ice.

"Oh, what fun we're going to have!" said Jimble to Jumble as they hurried down the attic stairs, their skates jingling, "ta, ta, ta!"

"Do you suppose Pa or Ma will care?" asked Jumble of Jimble.

"I don't guess so," answered the other boy rabbit. "Pa likes his melons cold for breakfast and he can put a lot of 'em on the ice of the kitchen floor when we get through skating."

"Sure he can," said Jumble.

So quickly did the freezing coils of pipe work, even after Jimble and Jumble had pulled them out of the new box, that when the two boy rabbits got back to the kitchen with their skates there was a film of ice all over the floor. The water was still squirting from the faucet, but Jimble now shut it off.

The bear fell on the ice.

Then the bunny boys put on their skates and started to glide around the kitchen floor, which was now more like a frozen pond than the linoleum place where Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy got the meal.

"Isn't this nifty?" cried Jimble.

"Just grand!" said his brother.

You might have thought that Nurse Jane or Mrs. Longears would have stopped the rabbit boys from freezing the kitchen floor. But, as it happened, Mrs. Longears and the muskrat lady were not at home just then.

Uncle Wiggily had gone to look for an adventure, thinking everything was all right with his new ice-box. He never dreamed that Jimble and Jumble would do what they did.

"I think," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, as he hopped along, "that after I have a little adventure I'll go home and make some ice-cream in my new refrigerator."

So he had a small adventure of putting back in its nest a little robin bird that had fallen out and then the rabbit gentleman hopped home. As he neared his bungalow he heard jolly shouts and laughter. And as he hoped along Uncle Wiggily also heard behind him a crinkling and crackling noise.

The first jolly noise was made by Jimble and Jumble skating on the frozen kitchen floor. And the crackling and crackling noise was made by a hungry bear who was chasing after Uncle Wiggily to catch him. But the rabbit gentleman hopped so fast and there were so many bramble briar bushes in the way of the hungry bear that the rabbit gentleman was within sight of his bungalow before the bear caught up to him.

"Never mind," growled the hungry bear to himself as he saw Uncle Wiggily hurry into his bungalow. "I can crawl in a window and get him as easily as anything. So the bear went close to a window. Meanwhile Uncle Wiggily had hopped into his bungalow. And you can imagine how surprised he was when, following the sound of jolly shouts and laughter, he saw Jimble and Jumble skating around on the frozen kitchen floor.

"Well!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. And, as if one well wasn't enough he cried again: "Well! Well!"

"No, Pa," said Jimble. "We didn't get the water to freeze out of a well. We got it from the kitchen sink."

Then Uncle Wiggily had to laugh, whether he wished or not, to see how Jimble and Jumble had taken out part of the ice-box to freeze themselves a skating pond. Uncle Wiggily stood with his back to the window and laughed and laughed and laughed again.

Then, all of a sudden the hungry bear jumped in the window to get a rabbit lunch. Neither Jimble, Jumble nor Uncle Wiggily saw the bad chap. And the bear, not knowing the kitchen floor was frozen, slipped and stumbled and fell on the ice. "Bang!" he hit his head so hard that he went to sleep for a while and Mr. Longears telephoned for the Police Dog to come and take the hungry bear off to jail.

"Just my luck!" murmured the hungry bear when he awakened and found himself in jail.

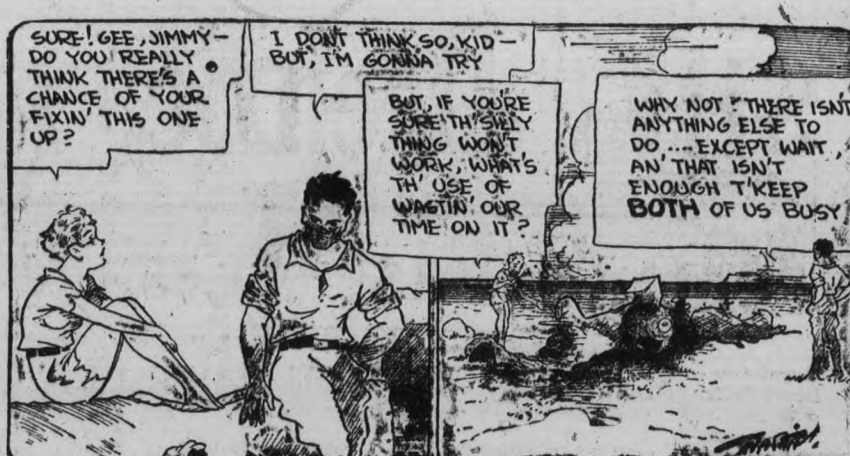

After the bear had been taken away Uncle Wiggily asked Jimble and Jumble about freezing the kitchen floor and they told him how they had done it. And Uncle Wiggily said:

"Get my skates, boys, and I'll have a race with you!" Soon the old rabbit gentleman and the bunny boys were skating together and having fun. And when Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears came home they were as surprised as anything. And if the pin will stand on its head and stop poking its point in the eye of the needle, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and Jimble's pop gun.

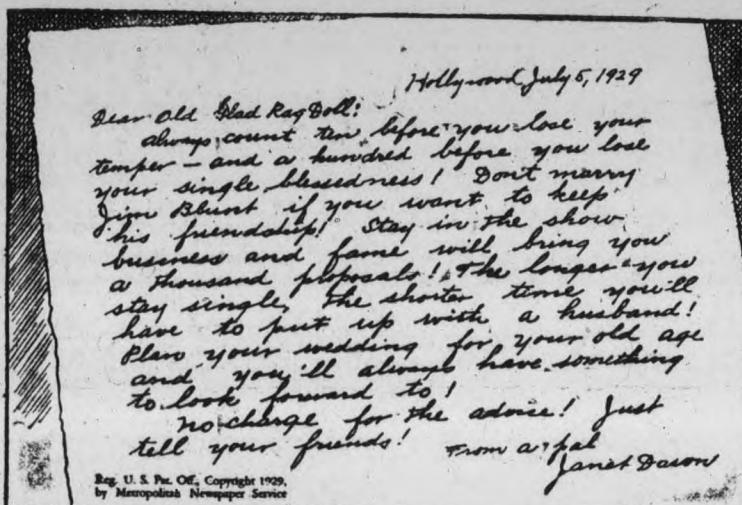

SPRUCE BEST FOR RAYON

The spruce of Northern Canada is considered the most suitable raw material for the manufacture of rayon by the viscose process. Cellulose, in the form of sulphite pulp, derived from this wood is now being shipped from Canada to all parts of the world for the manufacture of artificial silk.
